Riding Rules and Policy

- Safety is our number one priority.
- This is a walk only guided trail ride. Absolutely no running allowed.
- Long pants and closed toed shoes are mandatory.
- Carry on items are not allowed. (no cell phones)
- All riders must have a liability release form filled out completely, front and back, before riding.
- Holding back and allowing the horse to “catch up” at a jog will not be tolerated. If you are caught doing that, you will be removed from the horse and walk back. The ride is single file and no passing.
- Horses have their own brain. Although we do our absolute best to make sure we have safe horses, they do things that are unpredictable at times that we have no control over. Ride at your own risk. (Initials) _____
- Horse back riding is an inherently dangerous activity. It is necessary that riders be able to communicate with and be able to follow instructions of the staff. For the safety of the rider, other riders, horses, and staff it is necessary that all riders be able to follow verbal instructions that may be given to them on the trail by staff. If a communication or language barrier exists that prevents a rider from being able to follow verbal instructions, then the rider must provide their own translator to accompany them on the trail. The translator may ride free of charge.
- Horses are assigned according to height, weight, and riding ability. Requests’ for certain horses cannot be guaranteed. Max weight is 215.
- Payment is required prior to ride, and we do not give refunds.
- We reserve the right to refuse service. Some reasons include suspicion of drug or alcohol use, extreme fear, and abuse of horses.
- Finally, relax and have a great ride.
